Porter Case Gets To Las Cruces

CHANGE OF VENUE IS ORDERED

Judge Says Fair Trial Is Impossible in Otero County At This Time.

STATE ASKED FOR CHANGE OF VENUE

The Defence Combats It, but Judge Agrees With the Attorney General.

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., April 15.—On the ground that of his own knowledge a fair and impartial trial could not be had on account of the state of public feeling, Judge Harry J. Leary, in the Otero district court, yesterday afternoon, granted, on behalf of the state, a change of venue to Dona Ana county in the case of James L. Porter, indicted for the murder of Ralph B. Connell.

In making the motion attorney general Clancy failed to present affidavits in his possession. The court explained that he did not insist on the affidavits for the reason that their publication would only subject the affiant to "possible trouble and inconvenience" on account of the bitterness existing.

The court was thus down on another act of the grim tragedy that had its beginning on the 15th day of last June, when Ralph B. Connell, riding alongside a herd of cattle on the highway between Tularosa and Mesquite, was shot down and almost instantly killed. Supposition attached to James L. Porter, the killing having occurred almost directly in front of Porter's ranch house, which is about three miles north of Tularosa and near where the road turns into the canyon. Then, too, the feeling had existed between Porter and Connell.

Arrests After Killing
The killing was done between Sheriff James Hunter, who was notified by telephone as soon as the news was brought to Tularosa, and accompanied by one of his experienced deputies, left at once to an arrest. When the sheriff reached the Porter home, where the killing occurred, he found that deputy and other officers, hurrying out from Tularosa, were already under arrest Mrs. James L. Porter, wife of the man who has been indicted for the killing. Mrs. Porter, who was employed on the ranch.

Talley and Mrs. Porter were brought to Alamogordo. The district attorney would not authorize the arrest of Mrs. Porter until about noon of the following day. By that time, complaint had been sworn to and warrant issued for the arrest of J. L. Porter. Porter, so after the warrant was issued, Porter came into the courthouse in Alamogordo and surrendered to the sheriff's office.

Held Without Bond.
After some weeks of waiting, a preliminary or examining trial was arranged. This trial was before Judge Holmes, justice of the peace of this precinct. The district attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Capt. W. C. Reid, of Roswell, and Dean Sherry, of Alamogordo. The defense was conducted by Herbert B. Holt, of Las Cruces, and Tom Lee, of El Paso. Judge Holmes held Porter without bail, recommending him to jail, and admitting Talley to bail, fixing his bond in the sum of $2000, both to await the action of the next grand jury.

Bond Is Granted.
A short time later counsel for the defense filed a writ of habeas corpus, and Judge Herbert B. Holt, of Albuquerque, came to Alamogordo to conduct the hearing in Judge J. L. Porter's case. Judge Porter felt that he could not conduct the hearing, since he had sat as the trial judge in the water suits in which Porter and Connell were interested, and in another instance, upon the complaint of Connell, had adjudged Porter in contempt of court and committed him to jail for 60 days, which sentence Porter served in full. At the hearing before Judge Raymond, the case was not reopened, but presented upon a transcript of the evidence introduced at the preliminary trial Judge Raymond modified the decision of the justice's court by admitting Porter to bail, fixing the bond in the sum of $15,000. The bond was filed and accepted within a few hours.

Grand Jury Quashed.
The case would have been presented to the grand jury at the term of court which was set for last November, but for the fact that the court quashed both the grand and petit juries. This was done by the court on motion by Frank W. Clancy, attorney general, who came here for the purpose of assisting the district attorney in the Porter-Talley case. Mr. Clancy declared that the entire jury list of 200 names did not contain the name of one Spanish-American citizen and moved for the quashing of the entire jury list. In addition to the grand and petit juries, which had been drawn from this list, he declared that Spanish-Americans constituted 20 percent of the citizenship of Otero county and that so to discriminate against them would be unjust and unfair and contrary to the spirit of the

OBREGON TROOPS ARE SHORPMOVED

Reports From South Indicate that Villa Has the Best of the Fighting.

Official reports that Gen. Alvaro Obregon's army at Celaya was being surrounded by the Villa-Zapata troops were confirmed today by private advices from the south. It was stated that while Villa again was attacking Celaya from the north, Gen. Felipe Angeles had arrived from Monterey with 1500 men and a large amount of artillery to assault the Carranza position from the east. While Gen. Juan Bandera, with from 3000 to 4000 Zapata troops three days ago had reached San Juan del Rio, just south of Queretaro, Obregon's base.

Together with this information came details of the first battle of Celaya in which the Villa army was defeated severely. The Carranza commander allowed the enemy to enter outlying districts of the town, and then showed the crowded streets with machine gun and shrapnel fire. The Villa troops fled, leaving large numbers of killed and wounded in the streets. Villa's losses in this battle, which occurred last week, are estimated at 4000 killed, wounded and captured. One thousand of the Villa wounded were sent to Guadalupe.

German Shot By Zapatistas.
Conditions in Mexico City were reported quiet in reports reaching here today. The situation caused for want of food supplies, however, was still critical. The Carranza government in the month was probably fatally wounded by Zapata soldiers who sought to rob him in a street of the capital.

Railroad Cut.
Between Celaya and the city the railway is practically destroyed and the 100 mile journey must be made on handcars and in the saddle. Obregon's troops are scattered along the railway from Celaya to Queretaro, which is being used as a base. The main body of the army, said the arrivals, is entrenched at Celaya.

Strike May Tie Up Building Which Would Reach $200,000,000 Total.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 15.—Word went out from union headquarters today to "pull out the carpenters when the whistle blows at 4:30."

Without sign of compromise, there drew near a clash between 12,000 union carpenters and 600 members of the carpenters-contractors association. It is estimated that a strike by the carpenters would throw out of work $200,000,000 in cost at it continued, would affect another $5,000,000 in all departments of building.

Employers Are Defiant.
"Let them strike," was the defiant message that passed between employers and carpenters today.

There are about 4500 buildings under construction in Chicago and the union men claim work will be stopped on 50 percent of these.

Members of the carpenters-contractors association told today of a "cooper riveted war pact" between the various organizations of employers who are determined to enforce the uniform agreement which already has been accepted by some of the labor unions.

BRITISH KILLED AND WOUNDED REACH TOTAL OF 139,347 MEN

Figures on British Losses Are Related in Parliament; Field Marshal Sir John French Summarizes Action of Nueve Chapelle, Censuring Commanders for Failure to Carry Out Directions.

LONDON, ENGL., April 15.—The total of British casualties in the war from the beginning of hostilities up to April 11 is 139,347 men, according to an announcement made in the house of commons this afternoon by Harold J. Tennant, under secretary of war.

This followed a report Wednesday by field marshal Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force on the continent, that the British losses in three days fighting at Nueve Chapelle were as follows:

Wounded: 350 officers, 8174 other ranks.
Missing: 23 officers, 1723 men.

Field marshal French's report continues: "The enemy left 1900 dead on the field and we have positive information that upwards of 12,000 wounded were removed by trains; 30 officers were captured."

French has some criticism. Field marshal French's report goes into the details of the operations of the British expeditionary force during February and March and while he pays the highest tribute to Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, who was directly in charge of the operations at Nueve Chapelle, and refers to the battle as a "success and victory," he has some criticism for example, to the "considerable delay after the capture of the Nueve Chapelle position" and says:

"I am of the opinion that this delay would not have occurred had the clear and expressed order of the general commanding the first army been more carefully observed."

He also says: "The difficulties encountered might have been overcome earlier in the day if the general officer commanding the fourth corps had been able to bring his reserves more slowly."

FIVE THOUSAND WOUNDED MEN ATTEND CELEBRATION

Premier Viviani made an address in which he declared that France intended to continue the fight until the German flag was crushed and Europe liberated.

President Poincare and the members of his cabinet and the ambassadors of the allied powers were present. The best singers and actors in Paris took part in the long program, which opened with the singing of the national anthem, which the soldiers cheered.

No such enthusiasm has been witnessed in Paris since the war began as when the French flag was brought on the stage during the rendition of a patriotic play called, "The Soldiers of France."

RUSSIAN DASH FAILS

The Russian attempt with the army that was before Przemysl to force the invasion of Hungary has resulted in failure. The endeavors to get through the Lemberg and East Duka passes were not successful and the Russian attacks at Stropkoff and Feisortseburgs were definitely repulsed.

The extension of our front at the ally would already reported, was maintained against a counter attack. Our general ordered the evacuation of a portion of the principal German trench and the north of this trench, and also gained for us a section of ground 400 yards long.

"In Alsace north of La Lanza, we made progress amounting to 1500 yards in the direction of Schœnen-Kirchhof."

ARTILLERY WRECKS GERMAN SHELTERS

The German war office gave out a statement at Paris this afternoon which says:

"Near La Bainsville our heavy artillery completely wrecked German shelters and trenches."

"In the Argonne, near Fontaine-Aux-Charles, a local engagement took place from trench to trench, in which we gained the advantage."

"The extension of our front at the ally would already reported, was maintained against a counter attack. Our general ordered the evacuation of a portion of the principal German trench and the north of this trench, and also gained for us a section of ground 400 yards long."

"In Alsace north of La Lanza, we made progress amounting to 1500 yards in the direction of Schœnen-Kirchhof."

Some efforts were made by the fleeing German army to break through the valley to save their livestock, but little was accomplished, it is believed. In many instances men, women and children rode out on their hands and knees with only a handful of their personal belongings reaching the foothills barely ahead of the waves of water sweeping northwest toward the Colorado river.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

FAILURE of the Russian attempt to invade Hungary was announced today by the German war office. The statement is made that the effort of the Russian army from Przemysl to force the Lemberg and East Duka passes was not successful and the Russian attacks at Stropkoff and Feisortseburgs were definitely repulsed.

Although official reports from Petrograd denote no such reverses, they indicate the Russian advance has been brought virtually to a halt.

Romania to Intervene.
Advices have been received in Rome from Saloniki that the intervention in the war of Roumanian army is imminent. It is said the Roumanian army is well equipped and ready for instant action.

WESTERN FRONT AGAIN QUIET

Official reports from the western front once more are nearly at a standstill. The vigorous counter offensive of the Germans in the Meuse region, which began last week, has checked the French initiative. Signs of increasing activity in Belgium and northern France which, in conjunction with the Meuse-Meuse battle, were regarded as a possible prelude to the long discussed general offensive, are no longer apparent.

Four attacks by the French are mentioned by the Berlin war office statement today and are said to have resulted in failure. The Paris statement, however, asserts that in the ally woods a section of ground 400 yards long and 100 yards deep was won, and that in Alsace an advance of nearly one mile was made.

SHIP PIARMIGAN IS SUNK

The British steamer Piarmigan has been sunk by a German submarine in the North sea. Eleven men of her crew of 22 were saved. Four steam trawlers flying the flag of Holland have been seized by German warships and taken into Cuxhaven.

ST. JOHNS INUNDATED; FARMS SWEEP AWAY; LOSS, $400,000.

Part of St. Johns Inundated; Farms Swept Away; Loss, $400,000.

OTHER DAMS MAY BREAK, IS FEAR

Holbrook, In Path Of Flood, Prepares For Expected Rush Of Water.

HOLBROOK, Ariz., April 15.—The Hunt dam, 20 miles from St. Johns, was carried out shortly before noon by the flood which broke the Lyman dam Wednesday night. The water swept down toward the Woodruff dam. Woodruff will be submerged unless the dam there also breaks. The flood will reach Woodruff tonight.

SANTA FE, N. M., April 15.—A sudden thaw in snow in the White mountains of northern Arizona caused the Lyman dam near St. Johns to break at about midnight Wednesday night. The flood swept down the valley, high people, living directly under the dam, lost their lives. Farms were inundated as the people fled to higher ground. The flood swept toward Holbrook, 50 miles from St. Johns, and residents of the town prepared for a quick flight. Woodruff, east of Holbrook, was also in danger. The Santa Fe Railroad company, whose tracks at Holbrook were in the path of the flood, took measures to protect its property. The flood is the greatest the region has ever known and is expected to reach Holbrook this afternoon.

Some efforts were made by the fleeing German army to break through the valley to save their livestock, but little was accomplished, it is believed. In many instances men, women and children rode out on their hands and knees with only a handful of their personal belongings reaching the foothills barely ahead of the waves of water sweeping northwest toward the Colorado river.

Other Dams May Break.
All of the dead lived in the valley below the dam. The water swept down on St. Johns without warning. Part of the town was inundated, farms were washed away and stock drowned. Thousands of people in the valley of the Little Colorado river fled to the hills. Two other reservoirs below St. Johns are believed sure to give way, but the people have fled. No further loss of life is believed probable, but the property loss may reach $1,000,000.

Alarm Is Spread.
That the loss of life was not greater was due, it is said, to prompt communication from farm to farm. The people, according to the Santa Fe report, of the most necessary belongings and fled. Hills were not far distant, and this fact allowed the people to get out of danger soon.

Whether bodies of the eight dead have been recovered, is not known here. First advices of the disaster reached the city today in telegrams from Apache county, which is in eastern Arizona and inaccessible.

The dam has been built on the Little Colorado, which flows northwest, after passing St. Johns, goes through the northern extremity of the White mountains, and empties into the Colorado river near Holbrook.

WOODRUFF MAY BE IN DANGER

Holbrook, Ariz., April 15.—Lyman reservoir broke shortly after midnight, drowning eight persons. A reservoir at Hunt, northwest of St. Johns, is in the path of the flood, and if the dam there, which is threatened, gives way, Woodruff, 12 miles southeast of Holbrook, will be in danger.

The eight persons drowned at Lyman had been living directly under the reservoir dam, which collapsed as did a similar dam at the Tanager in the same county. At St. Johns today the flood had reached a depth of three feet in some places.

Lyman reservoir furnished water to irrigate 20,000 acres.
